HELPFUL SERVICE.

Something Business Men Should Consider in Selecting a Bank.

When a business man is selecting a bank, its ability to furnish him with such financial aid as he may need for the proper care and expansion of his business should always be considered. Many a bank that is willing to not take care of the proper requirements of its customers. That is why it is always wise to have an account where you are sure of every loan and discount to keep your business afloat and responsibility. The First National of Conneltsville, for instance, which with resources of over $2,250,000 is able to give all its customers the helpful service that makes for success.—Advt.

BEAUTIFUL, WAVY, LUSTROUS HAIR IN A FEW MOMENTS

Get a 25 cent bottle of "Danderine" and try this. Also stops falling hair; destroys dandruff.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine" hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.—Advertisement.

Anty Drudge Tells How to Avoid Sunday Soaking

Mrs. Hurrayup—"I always put my clothes to soak on Sunday night. Then I get an early start on Monday and get through washing by noon. I don't consider it breaking the Sabbath, for cleanliness is next to godliness, you know."

Anty Drudge—"Yes, but godliness comes first, my dear. And you should keep the Commandments. Get a cake of Fels-Naptha Soap and you won't have to soak your clothes over night, and your washing will be all done by noon; without boiling, without hard work and with more satisfaction than any other way."

Rough, red hands are the trial of most housewives. "I don't mind the work if I could only keep my hands nice," sighs the young woman.

You will have less work and nice hands at the same time if you use Fels-Naptha Soap in washing clothes. Hot water chaps the hands; hard rubbing on the washboard swells the knuckles. Using Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, you have neither hot water, hard rubbing nor nauseous steam. But Fels-Naptha must be used the Fels-Naptha way—no boiling.

Follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

STEADY ATTENDANT AT MILL TOWN SUNDAY SCHOOL IS HONORED

Fred Johnston of Morgan Is Given Token of Appreciation

FOR RECORD AS A MEMBER

Has Not Missed a Sabbath in Six Years; Was Never Late and Walked
About 2,000 Miles in Going to Local Methodist Church.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTTSVILLE, Oct. 28.—The First Methodist Episcopal Church was crowded for the Sunday morning service of the Sunday School, Dr. James F. Strickler, the superintendent, presiding.
The altar was beautifully decorated in corn stalks and ears of corn, autumn leaves, vines and flowers until it was emblematic of autumn and the autumn harvest.

There were selections by an orchestra
under W. J. Bartlett's leadership and songs by the choir. The Rev.
H. S. Piper, the pastor, presented the interests of the Sunday School, speaking of the different departments, including the Home Department which has been opened with a large membership,
and also of the Credit Roll Department. He said that one of the representatives of the Men's Bible Class would present that interest. A.
L. Porter spoke for the class, saying that the secretary reported nine new members joining that morning, and urging that more should join.

He concluded by saying that the records of the class showed that among the many constant attendants in the class for the last six years was one who had never missed any Sundays when he was in this country, although he had the farthest to go of any of the members and was one of the youngest either. On this account the speaker said that he would not ask the member to walk up to the front of the church for the gift, but would carry it to him as the member had walked about 2,000 miles in the last six years' attendance, and that the class with its best wishes and asking God's blessing upon him, presented a Testament to Fred Johnston, of Morgan Station. There was applause
when the Testament was handed. Mr.
Johnston who has come from Morgan Station every Sunday, mostly walking
the entire distance back and forward,
unless he gets to ride on the Old Meadow car the short distance it runs.
Mr. Johnston made a feeling speech in appreciation of the gift and said that never had it been too hot or too cold, too wet or too dry for him to come to Sunday School. Superintendent Strickler added that all this time he had never known Mr. Johnston to be late, he was always early in being present for the Sunday School, although he had the farthest to travel in attending.

Claude E. Towner of Monongahela, Pa., gave a glowing address on the needs of life, and told of how much the Sunday school had meant to him,
and how much it means to humanity,
particularly in the last few years,
when Bible study is growing so remarkably in comparison to what it used to be. He said that he believed the Bible had no use for those who were running around with sensors and cutting parts out of the Bible as not to be believed. He said that when cutting is started then it will have to be carried the whole way through, as this is confusing to those who chop out bits.

COURSE TO OPEN.
The first number of the Y. M. C. A.

and half a dozen soloists. The course is five numbers as usual, and will be made six numbers should the sale of tickets equal the last year, the sixth number being free.

TRAVEL PARTY MEET.

will meet with Mrs. J. P. K. Miller, at

What will happen in the three counties of this district on election day cannot be forecasted. The friends of Taft are working to carry Fayette, Somerset and Greene counties for him. The majority of the voters are silent. Whether their silence means that they are satisfied to leave well enough alone, or intend to follow the advice of the Democrat and the Bull Moose and vote for a change is simply a matter of opinion. If the Bull Moose can attract between 2,000 and 3,000 voters in Fayette county they will be able to deliver the territory to Wilson. The men who are conducting the campaign care nothing about Roosevelt, but are interested in trying to wreck the Republican organization in the hope that they can build a machine out of the wreckage. History has shown repeatedly that those engaged in the work of tearing down politically, even though successful, never gather the benefits of their work.

In Somerset the Sculls are endeavoring to throw the county to Roosevelt for personal political reasons. There is likelihood that they may succeed. In the most that they can accomplish is to elect a Democrat member of Congress in the 23rd district.

Greene has been Democratic territory for years, but in the last year there is in the balance, as in the great coke trade in Fayette and Westmoreland counties. The last figures available are those furnished by the Census Bureau in 1909. When this data was given on wool growing in Greene:

Farms on which sheep are raised ..... 1,415
Fleeces of wool marketed ..... 145,791
Number of wool bearing sheep ..... 141,373
Number of pounds of wool produced ..... 842,195
Value (practically 50 cents a pound) ..... $201,447

Since 1909 the production has increased and the value is larger. The Greene county wool growers remember what happened to them in the second Cleveland administration after the enactment of the Wilson bill. The business was ruined and when Mr. Kinley went into office in 1897 the sheep had almost disappeared from the Greene county hills. They had to be sold for 21 and 30 cents a head for mutton only. The Dingley and Payne bills have re-established the industry. If the Greene county wool growers vote to protect their business Taft will carry the county on November 5 and Congressman Crapo will be re-elected. He voted and spoke against the wool bill in the present Congress, which, if it had not been vetoed by President Taft, would have reduced the sheep industry to where it was in the '90s.

In a straight contest for re-election between the Republicans and Democrats, Colonel Crapo would not have much trouble in electing his Democratic opponent, Woods S. Carr of Uniontown. There is a Bull Moose in between, who is helping Carr. He is Harvey M. Berkeley of Somerset. When Congressman Crapo refused to surrender his principles and submitted to the Filin pledge that he would decline to aid in the re-election of President Taft, and that in the event of the election being thrown into the House of Representatives, he would be bound by the vote cast for Taft and Roosevelt in his district, he was refused the Washington party endorsement. Berkeley was put in the field by the Sculls and John R. Byrne and P. A. Johns of Fayette. Crapo had won his nomination in the Republican primaries. In the same primaries Berkeley had been elected to represent the district in the Republican national convention. He supported Roosevelt then and when the Bull Moose national convention was held he participated in it.

The friends of Berkeley are endeavoring to make it possible for him to have a chance to win. They are claiming that Somerset county will be carried for Roosevelt by a majority of 4,500, and that Berkeley will have the same lead. To suit their wishes they divide the vote of Fayette in three parts, Berkeley, Crapo and Carr sharing equally in the division. Somerset Republicans, who are not interested one way or another in the factional differences between George and Robert Scull on the one side and John A. Berkeley on the other, dispute the claims of the Roosevelt forces as to Somerset county. They say it is possible for Roosevelt to carry the county by from 1,000 to 2,000, and perhaps he may lose it by a narrow margin. Even if he does win by the higher figure, they say that Berkeley will run considerably behind him. Berkeley is not credited with personal strength.

In the last judicial election, the Sculls made it possible for W. H. Ruppel, Democrat, to win. In some quarters the belief is expressed that Ruppel will return the favor by delivering Democratic votes to Berkeley. There is denial of this by men who ought to have some reliable information on the subject. Even if Ruppel does deliver, Carr will lose more by this than will Crapo, who has strong supporters in Somerset county. Crapo will spend the last week of the campaign in that county. He has made a good Congressman, and it is doubtful if the Republicans of Somerset county will vote a majority to Berkeley when they know that action simply makes it easier for the Democrats to win the district.

In Fayette county the Republicans are confident that there is no likelihood of the vote being equally divided between Crapo, Carr and Berkeley. The latter is expected to run a low third, being dangerous to Crapo only by reason of the possibility of his poll enough votes to allow Carr to carry the county. Ash P. Williams, the Fayette Republican County Chairman, is making an excellent fight for Taft, Crapo and the whole Republican ticket.

In Fayette there will be some Democratic votes cast for Crapo. Williams says that numerous business men affiliated with the Democratic party, will support Taft and Crapo because they believe it is the one way to maintain the present prosperity. In Greene Crapo will also receive some Democratic votes, and there is not much likelihood of him losing many Republican votes. In the primaries there were just 82 Greene county Republicans who did not support him. In Somerset, Virgil R. Saylor, the Republican County Chairman, says that the Democrats are standing solidly by their ticket. He reports but one Democrat in the county who has said he would not vote for Wilson.

Crapo voted against all of the Democratic tariff bills in the present Congress. His support was given to the measure to elect United States Senators by a direct vote of the people. He is the father of a bill now pending to compel the receivers for national banks to make a report to the District Federal Courts. The legislation was suggested by the failure of the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Wheeling several years ago. The receiver under the present laws cannot give any information to the public. The scores of Greene county people interested in the definite institution have known the edge of the condition of the bank. Crapo's bill requires an inventory by the receiver six months after appointment and complete annual reports to the district courts.

In Fayette county the "Battle for the Lord," captioned in the State by William Filin, is being conducted by John R. Byrne and P. A. Johns. They are standing for reform, the rule of the people and progressive ideas. The people of Fayette county know how they have typified the opposite in the past.

When the Washington party was organized in Fayette, J. W. Dawson of the Civic League, who had charge of the campaign audit cases in which Byrne was a defendant, thought that it would be well to have a high-class man at the head of the Bull Moose organization. Byrne at once served notice that there might as well be a clear understanding as to the purpose of the Bull Moose in Fayette. He announced its one object is to put the present Republican organization out of business, and he named Johns as Chairman. Johns and Byrne were in control from 1907 to 1911 in Fayette and the record does not indicate that the people were doing much ruling. The pair simply want to build a machine, and for present purposes are dealing with Filin.

In behalf of Taft, Judge J. Q. Van Scoyningen and former Congressman Allen P. Cooper are working together. J. V. Thompson is another strong supporter of the President.

The Republican Legislative ticket in Fayette is expected to win. It is made up of William L. Thompson (Henry A. Chalfant, John S. Carroll and William S. Conwell. Byrne and Johns have put up this ticket. W. H. Shawman, Clyde B. Miller and Jesse Lewis. They also named a loanback of South Brownsville, but he declined to run. The Democratic candidates are C. C. Goss, Reuben Howard, James Keenan and Harry Cochran.

In Somerset the Republican candidates for Assembly are Robert W. Lohr and Charles T. Hemminger. They have the Bull Moose endorsement. The Democrats are supporting James Tipton and William Watson.

Representative W. F. Blair of Greene county is a candidate to succeed himself. His Republican opponent is N. W. Sayers.

In this congressional district the Socialists are not expected to develop enough strength to be considered dangerous either in the House for Congress or Legislature. The congressional nominee is Charles L. Gans of Uniontown. The Prohibitionists are supporting B. S. Forsythe of Dawson.

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, man-drake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherry bark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "Golden Medical Discovery."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's way. It is just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin—you feel "blue."

"More than a week ago I was suffering with an awful cold in my head, throat, breast, and body," writes Mr. James G. Kerr, of 710 L. Street, S. E., Washington, D. C. "Some called it La Grippe, some pneumonia. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I tried a bottle and it did me so much good that I feel safe in saying it is the greatest and best medicine I have ever taken. My health is much better than it was before using your medicine. It does all you claim for it and is satisfactory."

J. G. Kerr, M.D.

GOLD BRAID, COLORS AND SWORDS MARK DAWSON WEDDING

Nuptials of Miss Beattie Rist and Ensign Church are solemnized.

AFFAIR IS MOST BRILLIANT

Time-Honored Navy Customs, Beautiful Gowns and Costly Decorations Distinguish Marriage Attended by 250 Guests, Including Local Min.

Full-dress navy uniforms marked the wedding of Miss Beattie Rist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Rist, of Dawson, and Ensign Gaylord Church, of Troy, N. Y., Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Graham Memorial church, Dawson. It was the first naval wedding in this vicinity and was witnessed by a large and fashionable assemblage.

The navy officers in uniforms of blue and gold and the elaborately gowned women added brilliancy to the handsomely decorated church. The church is well-adapted for decorating for such an occasion and, as a result of the skillful work of the decorators, was transformed into rare beauty. During the assemblage of the guests, a musical program was rendered by Miss Pearl Rist, and as the bridal party entered the church, Ensign Church's wedding march was played softly.

During the ceremony, Schumann's "Trauermusik" was played. The four bridesmaids, Miss Anna Hayward, of Fredonia, N. Y., Miss Elizabeth Weller, of Pittsburg; Miss Marie Moore, of Dawson, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Alice Walker, of Mendon, entered the church from the side entrance and proceeded up the main aisle where they met the bride and others of her party in the main entrance. Then the ushers, Ensigns E. A. Hendrick, of the United States Navy, and James H. Smith, of Dawson, a cousin of the bride, preceded the bridesmaids, who were followed by the little ring-bearer, nephew of the bride, Master Charles Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Carpenter, of Conneltsville, who carried the ring on a large white satin pillow. Next came the flower girl, little Virginia, and Ruth Rist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rist, of Dawson, and alices of the bride, carrying square sided baskets of yellow roses, lilies of the valley and autumnal ribbon bows of yellow satin, merrilline ribbon. The matron of honor, Mrs. Frank Soles, preceded the bride and her father by whom she was given in marriage. The bridegroom and his best man, Ensign J. W. Barker, of the United States Cruiser Birmingham, and the pastor, the Rev. Herbert A. Hays, entered from the rear of the church and joined the bridal party at the altar. The impressive ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Mr. Hays. A pretty feature of the wedding was the quaintness of the gowns. The bride, who is an unusually attractive young woman, was wearing in an exquisite gown of imported rose pink and duchess lace with a skirt of white tulle and long court train of white tulle veiled with a long tulle veil. Her long tulle veil was fastened to the crown of her hair by a wreath of orange blossoms, and over her face was a short tulle veil. She carried a white ivory prayer-book with a gold marker, and a silver of tulle and white lilies. The matron-of-honor wore a handsome gown of blue cloth, embroidered in silver over a foundation of white christening satin and silver lace. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and wore a bird-of-paradise. The bridesmaids wore quaint French gowns of white and gold chiffon veiled in not bordered with a white band of rose pink lace over gold. Each wore a deep lace cape of rose pink lace and becoming Dutch bonnet of gold lace. They carried gold lace muffs. The little ring-bearer wore a white tulle dress with a white tulle veil, while the little ring-bearer wore a suit of white satin. Mrs. Rist, mother of the bride, wore lavender satin charmeuse with pearl trimmings. Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran wore white velvet trimmed with real lace. Mrs. Church, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Hugh Tucker, sister of the bridegroom, wore white lace gowns. Mrs. Harry L. Carpenter, sister of the bride, wore an exquisite gown of pink satin charmeuse.

Following the ceremony the bride and bridegroom passed beneath a canopy formed by the upraised small swords of the ushers. Yellow and white chrysanthemums lavishly were used in decorating the church and at the reception at St. James Park, home of Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran. The banquet was banked with flowers and candelums ferns, palms and other tropical plants. From the top of the organ were streamers of white tulle which extended to lace white wicker stands of yellow and white chrysanthemums adorned with immense bows of merrilline. The windows were banked with ferns and palms as was every available space in the church. Over the main aisle were arches of autumn leaves and each pew was marked with large bunches of chrysanthemums tied with bows of white satin merrilline ribbon. White ribbons marked the bridal path. Along the side of the Sunday-school room was an artistic arrangement of lattice work entwined with autumn leaves. On the posts were ferns and palms. The ceremony at the church was witnessed by more than 250 guests while about 250, including relatives and intimate friends of the two families attended the reception. The guests were conveyed to and from the Cochran home in automobiles.

The decorations at the magnificent home of Mrs. Cochran were unusually handsome. The navy colors, blue and gold, intermingled with a touch of white, were carried out in a most effective manner. The receiving line in the living-room, in addition to the bridal party, included Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Rist, parents of the bride, Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran, Mrs. Alfred Church, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Hugh Tucker. Music was rendered by Kiefer's orchestra.

Mrs. Cameron-Falconet, Mother of the White Girl Who Was Infatuated With Jack Johnson.

Covers for 18 were laid at the bride's table, which was arranged in the spacious diningroom, the large French doors of which opened into the porch. The table was encircled with beautiful flowers and vines presenting an appearance of midsummer. The centerpiece at the bride's table was a large basket of yellow chrysanthemums, the handle of which was embellished with an immense bow of the navy blue ribbon. Over the center of the table hung a large wedding bell of "merrilline" adorned with bows of tulle. The silver and cut glass candelabra were capped with yellow silk shades. During the dinner, the navy officers arose and drank to the health of the bride, after which they dashed their glasses to the floor, an old service custom. The bride cut the wedding cake with the bridegroom's sword. The other tables were served from smaller tables at which covers were laid for four. Each table had, as a centerpiece, a basket of half-blown American Beauty roses. The favors were white moire silk boxes containing wedding cake. On each box were double hearts embossed in rose. In one heart was the letter "R," the monogram of the bride, and in the other the letter "C," of the bridegroom. Below was the name of each guest in gold. The bride's gift to her matron-of-honor was a gold necklace with pendant of a basket of white moire silk, and a small white heart. The bridesmaids wore necklaces with pendants of coral roses. Her gift to the little ring-bearer was a gold heart-shaped locket and to the ring-bearer, a silver ring. The bridegroom's gift to his best man was a scarfpin set with a sapphire, and to his ushers, gold cuff buttons with engraved monogram.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Church left with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Yoho and other Pittsburg guests in Mr. Yoho's private car. From Pittsburg, they left for New York City where they will remain for a short time, they will go for Troy, N. Y. The bride's traveling gown was navy blue broadcloth. She wore a black hat with a bird of Paradise. The bride was graduated from Allegheny College at Mendon, and is a young woman of accomplishments. She has traveled extensively, having toured Europe and but taking a trip around the world. She is well known socially, and is a member of one of Dawson's oldest and most prominent families. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Church, of Boston, and attended school at Allegheny College, Mendon, Pa., and the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. He is taking a six-months post-graduate course at Russell House Polytechnic University at Troy, N. Y. He was recently detached from the Atlantic squadron, after a cruise around the world.

The wedding gifts were numerous and costly.

—are as fresh and clean as when they went into the glass cases the first time this fall. None were bought especially to sell at a reduction, and none belong to that class of goods termed "Manufacturers' samples" — garments carried from Maine to California, crammed into trunks, hauled out two or three times a day for three months and finally gathered in by some merchant and sold as bargains. No, these are not "a remarkable purchase from a traveling salesman"—such clothes have had usage equal to six month's hard wear before the public gets them. These are merely good fashionable suits, bought for this season—some very recently, others about September 1, 1912—and all in a quality you'd expect to find in this good store, fairly priced.
